The Sydney Morning Herald of March 23rd, has the telegram from London, dated March 22nd, which says: "A royal license has been granted to the Anglo Australian Guano Company to extend over a period of three years, for the export of guano from Bird Island, one of the Sandwich group." Where are our Army and Navy.

By the mail steamer, letters have been received here from the celebrated Mendelssohn Quintette Club, stating that they expect to arrive at Honolulu by the steamer from Sydney which will be due June 5th. If the intermediate steamers between here and San Francisco shall be running at that time, the Company will remain here one month; otherwise they will give a morning concert, provided the steamer arrives at a suitable hour.

What with the dispatching of the mail, and the presence on the streets of the crowd of passengers from the Colonies en route for the East, together with the tourists of the Ceylon, the city wore a decidedly lively appearance yesterday forenoon.

Several persons having expressed a desire to contribute towards a testimonial for Capt. George Halliday, who lost all his effects by the disaster of the ship Norval, and of whose conduct under remarkably trying circumstances the Consular investigating committee spoke in terms of high praise—a subscription paper has been opened for his benefit, and may be found at the publication office of the DAILY BULLETIN.

J. B. Peterson yesterday received his commission as Assistant Postmaster of the Kingdom.
